

Free boundary problems of magnetohydrodynamics

Vsevolod Solonnikov

Abstract

The talk concerns a formulation and proof of the well posedness of some free boundary problems of magnetohydrodynamics. A local in time solution of these problems is obtained in Sobolev spaces under rather general restriction on initial data. In some special cases it is shown that the solution can be extended to an infinite time interval.