F is related to D. It also has chants at the Translation (102.4), Matins being incipits for repeats of 50.5, with R9 eccentric (bold cursive above), and also Lauds, then a series of 8 new L-Ab (2 more and 3 more incipits as later additions, not noted here). Only the 8 are given above (bold cursive).

L has chants at 57.5-6. 57.5 consists mostly of incipits for 1V-A taken from the following Matins.

CO (Transl.) starts after a lacuna in the middle of R ? V ?

Altogether there is a lot of interchange between Matins and Lauds texts, A and R texts. The most popular (4 witnesses or more) are:

A	Fuit vir vite venerabilis gratia		x	x	x	x	x	x
	Ab ipso pueritie sue tempore		x	x	x	x	x	x
	Dum in hac terra esset		x	x	x	x	x
	Nursia provincia exortus		x	x			x	x
	Relicta domo rebusque patris		x	x	x	x	x	x
	Hic itaque cum iam relictis		x	x		x	x
	Recessit igitur scienter		x	x	x	x	x	x
	Cumque in specu posito	x	x	x	x		x	x
	Cumque sibi conspiceret	x	x	x		x	x
	Inito consilio cenenum vino	4	x	x	x	x	x	x
Am/Ab	Pater scus dum intentam	x	x	x	x	x	x
	Hodie scus Ben. per		x	x	x	x		x
R	Fuit vir venerabilis	1	1	1	1	1	1	1
	Dne non aspicias peccata		6	7	5	4	4
	Eodem vero anno			8	10	T1	9	8
	Ante sextum vero exitus		9	11	T2		9
	Sexto namque die portari		10		T3	10	10
	Pater scus dum intentam			4	6	7	5
	O beati viri Ben. tanta/sca			8	8	13	11

Since with one exception these do not overlap, it may be that a core of texts was set repeatedly.
