

Application for admission for the master thesis in Biology

Faculty of Biology and Preclinical Medicine

according to § 20 of the Examination Regulations from 8. January 2018

(full name, student)

(matriculation-no.)

Prerequisite for admission are at least 70 CP, including

- three practical modules from the focus subjects, or two practical modules from the focus subjects and one practical module from the secondary subjects, and
- two theoretical modules from the focus subjects or one theoretical module from the focus subjects and one theoretical module from the secondary subjects.

Please note: In flexnow CPs are only shown when the module is fully completed. This means, that even though in flexnow less than 70 CPs are shown, the requirements are fulfilled when 70 CPs are achieved including the CPs from not fully completed modules.

I herewith declare, that:

- I fulfill the above mentioned prerequisite
- I am matriculated and not on leave during the entire master thesis
- I have not already conclusively failed to qualify for the master's degree in biology

The date of submission of the master thesis lays in between the examination deadline of six semester.

Yes

No. I herewith apply for an extension of the examination deadline for one / two semester.

Please note: All courses and study credits have to be fulfilled within the extended examination deadline.

Regensburg, Date _____

(The date has to be before the start of the master thesis!)

(signature; student)

supervisor* = first examiner

Professor or associate professor (Prof./PD)

working group / Institute

second examiner *

Professor or associate professor (Prof./PD) or (specially qualified) research assistant or teacher for special tasks.

Lehrstuhl / Institut

*The first or the second examiner have to be member of the Faculty of Biology and Preclinical Medicine of the UR.

(Preliminary) Topic of the master's thesis (please in block capitals):

Date of the start of the master thesis: _____

(signature; supervisor)

The Application for admission has to be submitted to the examination office of Biology (Prüfungssekretariat) before the start of the thesis!

In case of an external master thesis (outside of the University) an additional application of admission for an external master thesis has to be handed in together with this application of admission.