UNIVERSITÄT REGENSBURG

The Faculty of Chemistry and Pharmacy, Universität Regensburg, invites applications for a Professorship W2 of Clinical Pharmacy
the “Lesmüller-Stiftungsprofessur for Clinical Pharmacy” to be appointed as early as possible.

The successful candidate should have an outstanding scientific track record in clinical pharmacy with a focus on experimental methods. Contributions to the priority research areas of the Institute of Pharmacy and the faculty are expected.

The successful candidate will take up teaching assignments in clinical pharmacy, and display willingness to take on administrative responsibilities within the department. Licensing (Approbation) as a pharmacist is desired but not a prerequisite.

Prerequisites for this position are a university degree, a doctoral degree, demonstration of teaching skills at university level, and additional scholarly achievements, such as a habilitation or equivalent academic experience. Scientific research experience gained outside of a university environment, or while employed as a junior professor, will also be taken into consideration and may be considered equivalent to a formal academic qualification.

Candidates with severe disabilities will be given preferential consideration with essentially equivalent qualifications.

Candidates for this position should be aged 51 or under at the time of appointment (exceptions can be made following Art. 10 Para. 3 Clause 2 Bavarian University Staff Act (BayHSchPG).

The Universität Regensburg aims to raise the number of female professors and explicitly encourages applications from qualified females. The Universität Regensburg offers particular support to families in meeting the demands of the workplace (see https://www.uni-regensburg.de/equal-opportunities/index.html for more information).

Applications accompanied by supporting documentation (resume with copies of certificates; list of publications; research experience, research interests and statement of research; list of third-party funding; teaching experience and statement of teaching philosophy) should be submitted, preferably in electronic form, by
