

Poverty and famine in historical perspective

Professor Cormac Ó Gráda

University College Dublin

Cormac Ó Gráda

· Living standards and mortality since the Middle Ages

· Wednesday, July 1, 4-6 p.m., H 6

· Guest lecture in Mark Spoerer's class "European economic and social history"

· Debating the Little Ice Age

· Thursday, July 2, 6-8 p.m., PT 1.0.6

· Seminar in the colloquium "Research in economic and social history"

· Human capital and the Industrial Revolution: the English economy before 1800

· Friday, July 3, 2-4 p.m., PT 1.0.6

· Seminar in the colloquium "Research in economic and social history"

· Irish Jewry, Joyce's Ulysses, and Irish socioeconomic history

· Saturday, July 4, 11 a.m., VG 2.45

· Guest lecture in Rainer Liedtke's and Mark Spoerer's master class "The Economic Turn in Jewish history"

· Interdisciplinary approaches to famine studies

· Wednesday, July 8, 10-12 a.m., H 22

· Guest lecture in Kathrin Pindl's class "Patterns of consumption in (Pre-) Modern Europe"

The Great Irish Famine

Im Rahmen dieser lecture series präsentiert der Wirtschafts- und Sozialhistoriker Cormac Ó Gráda aus Dublin seine Forschungsergebnisse zu Armut, Hunger und Überleben in historischer Perspektive.

Universität Regensburg

FAKULTÄT FÜR PHILOSOPHIE, KUNST-,
GESCHICHTS- UND GESELLSCHAFTSWISSENSCHAFTEN

Institut für Geschichte

Lehrstuhl für Wirtschafts- und Sozialgeschichte

Prof. Dr. Mark Spoerer

Alle Interessierten sind herzlich eingeladen